

Four reasons to insist that a child carry a fresh “Pocket Scripture” every day of his/her life.

- 1. God’s word “Pocket Scriptures” correct a child.
- 2. God’s word “Pocket Scriptures” comfort a child.
- 3. God’s word “Pocket Scriptures encourage a child.
- 4. God’s word “Pocket Scriptures” protect a child

Getting to know God as a comforter, as an encourager and protector helps compensate a child for the loss of his parents time, one of the major losses experienced by the children of divorce. When Mom and Dad are not there as much a child feels the loss and is certain to fill the space with something... frequently drugs and or friends with little or no hope that things will ever get better. “Pocket Scriptures” give a child a sense that his parents are with him and by the grace of The Holy Spirit that God is with him.

In today’s world every child is at risk to the culture that surrounds them all, drugs, crime, premature sexual adventuring...nearly every wrong thing imaginable. Daily Pocket Scriptures are a significant help to all these children...putting God’s word between them and the world they must live in. The children of divorce however stand in special need because emotional stress of any kind opens a child to trying things he or she would not normally try. An example is that emotionally balanced children who watch hours and hours of violent tv show no tendency to violence themselves. The angry child who watches a single program is however thousands of times as likely to repeat the behavior. It is like throwing gasoline on a fire. The emotional fires caused by loneliness, loss, hurt and anger makes “Pocket Scriptures for the children of divorce almost a necessity.
